"The influence of the U.S. in the Spanish Defense Industry: past, present and future"

Jaime de Rábago, new Chairman of TEDAE since January 2018, holds a double MSc in Industrial Engineering (ICAI in Madrid and École Centrale in Paris). He has also completed postgraduate studies in the IESE Business School and in Babson College (US). He began his professional career in the financial sector in 1994, as an analyst at two investment banks, and then he joined the Spanish State Financial Agency ICO, where he was Technical Secretary and Vice-Secretary of the Board (1999-04)

From 2005 to 2011 he was a private entrepreneur, industrial consultant and independent investor, through a family business. In 2012-13 he was appointed CEO of Navantia, the shipbuilding company part of the Spanish State Industrial Holding (SEPI), where he reoriented the military programs, specially the submarine S-80, and relaunched the international expansion (Middle East, Asia and Latin America).

Since 2013, he is involved in different initiatives for promoting technology-based entrepreneurship, through a Technology Transfer Fund, and from 2015 to 2018, he has been Secretary General of the Spanish Association of Guarantee Companies.

In addition, Jaime is currently Vice Chairman of the National Association of ICAI Engineers, Vice Chairman of the Industrialization Committee of the Engineering Institute of Spain and, since 1996, he is an associate professor of the ICAI Engineering School.
